To Whom It May Concern:

The Redwood Clinic --Dr. Jay Sordean and staff-- came here on Wednesday, February 18, 2009, to provide a "Let Me Buy You Lunch" seminar. They provided delicious organic sandwiches and drinks to the employees as Dr. Sordean gave a dynamic 30-minute lecture and workshop on "The Three Solutions to Your Health Problems."

It became a "standing room only" event with the staff of 22 people.

Our employees enjoyed the food and were very interested in learning about why they should address health issues such as overweight, toxicity, and stress. They also appreciated the bonus raffle prizes and gifts that were part of the workshop.

We would recommend this lunch seminar as a special bonus to any company who wants to treat their employees to a nice lunch and valuable health information. Addressing these health issues can help reduce medical costs and the added costs in work injuries due to obesity.

The entire Bella Vista @ Hilltop Staff and Management appreciates Dr. Sordean's commitment and enthusiasm in helping others and I am personally looking forward to having him do a presentation to our community as well.

Sincerely,
